ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

On an information recording medium, there are recorded: one or a plurality of first entity information (VTS), which is compressed and encoded by a first compressing and encoding method, for individually constituting Titles; first management information (VMG) for managing and controlling the first entity information; one or a plurality of second entity information (VTS2), which is compressed and encoded by a second compressing and encoding method, for individually constituting Titles; and second management information (VMG2) for managing and controlling the first and second entity information.

10